Keeping Up -- With Uplanders

THE CITY'S DEVELOPMENT

Upland can grow.

Southern California's population is steadily increasing and recently Upland's growth has been at about the same pace as the southland average.

And so the Upland city council is scheduled tonight to give its answer on the general policy of this city's development.

The specific question for decision tonight is whether Hubert Manker's 36 acres on West Thirteenth street shall be subdivided?

The general question, however, is "Shall a fence be put around the community to discourage the commercial subdivisions and to limit development in the agricultural district to only those people who can afford an estate-type of residence?"

One leader urging disapproval of the Manker application said in The Upland News office this week that mass residential building is an economic liability to the present taxpayers.

Therefore, he argued, Upland should not have any subdivisions and that fewer the number of people in the community, better off would be the present property owners.

He may or may not be right. At least he thinks so and there are people who agree with him.

If subdivisions are such an economic liability to the taxpayers, most of Southern California's cities would be bankrupt.

If new families coming here do not "pay their way" Upland city tax rate and the Upland school district tax rate should be drastically increased. The fact remains the Upland city rate has not been increased and the city's financial reserves are in very good shape. Upland school tax rate is some higher today than 10 years ago but not at all out of line with other communities.

Of course, the citrus growers have their side of it. Many of them want to be able to carry on their normal operations without protests or interference from new residential neighbors.

Actually, there is not much conflict between citrus culture activities and residential development—in Upland. Protests from Upland people about orchard heating, spraying and cultivating have been very, very mild.

We believe the answer to the question of "how fast to permit Upland to grow?" is the word "reasonable."

By reasonable, we mean full protection of Euclid avenue frontage and adjacent area and the establishment of a limited restricted district in which estate-type of development only is permited.

An extreme policy would put a fence around the community.

Right now, the city's subdivision ordinance is more extreme in its requirements than nearby cities. In the last two years further restrictions have been added. Additional restrictions can be placed upon the subdivider—and definite "reasonable" areas can be established for estate-type dwellings.

Reasonable restrictions will result in a reasonable growth.

Extreme restrictions will result in a big fence being put around the city.

Upland can grow—and reasonable restrictions should prevail.

TIME TO REGISTER

Now that both major parties have nominated their tickets, all electors should make sure they are qualified to vote in the November election.

Registration deadline is September 11. Under terms of a new state law registration books close 54 days before the general election. Persons who have moved since their last registration and persons who will become 21 years of age prior to November 4 must register.

S.A. Park Area May Unite In Getting Water

Residents adjacent to San Antonio park are considering the possibility of uniting in a program of obtaining domestic water from the San Antonio Water Co., according to Ross Caldwell, one of the leaders in the project.

This is possible now due to a change in the company by-laws and if the plan is adopted it will be the first group to use the service.

Fifty-one families are now residing in the area west of Mountain avenue and north of Twenty-fourth street. As outlined by Mr. Caldwell, owner of each lot would be required to pay $100 for a one-quarter share in the company and $261 for cost of extending the water line and installation of meters. Water charges would be much less than now paid to the city of Upland and also "dry" lots would be entitled to water, Mr. Caldwell said.

About 30 persons were at a meeting in the company office to discuss the project and to hear the company's offer.

A survey is now being conducted among the property owners as to the possibility of accepting the offer.

"Large water consumers could get their original cost back within a short time due to the lower monthly water charges but it is a question if it would be a good move fore the smaller consumers," Mr. Caldwell said. "That is what we are finding out now—if there are enough property owners really interested in the new plan."

Under the company's plan, any charges of installation are met, person may obtain water if the according to Manager Don Adams.

Edward E. Gray Taken By Death

Edward E. Gray, prominent Upland attorney, died Friday night at his home, 854 North Euclid avenue, at the age of 80 years. He had been in failing health since he retired about a year ago.

Active in community affairs, he held the post of Upland city attorney for about 8 years, retiring in 1947.

In his long career, he gave time to both law and journalism.

A native of Missouri, he went to Oconomowoc, Wis., with his parents when a young child. He received his law degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1896, working his way through college as a newspaper reporter. He followed the newspaper profession until he was city editor of the Kansas City Star.

In 1906 he moved to Astoria, Oregon, where he opened a law office and also was editor of the Morning Astoria. Here he took an active part in civic affairs, serving as mayor for two terms and for eight years as a member of the board of education.

He began his law practice in Upland in 1929. He was a member of St. Mark's Episcopal church and the Upland Rotary club. He was also a past master of the Masonic lodge in Astoria.

Surviving Mr. Gray are a daughter, Barbara K. Gray, who holds a government position in Washington, D. C., a son, Robert S. Gray and a granddaughter, Susan Gray, of Upland. His wife, Edna Gray, died in February, 1950.

Funeral services for the veteran attorney were held Wednesday morning at St. Mark's Episcopal church, with the Rev. John A. Luther, rector, officiating. Entombment in Mountain View mausoleum, Pasadena, followed the rites.

Serving as pall bearers were Harlow S. Wilson, Robert H. Henderson, Eugene G. Nisbet, Richard G. Manley, Philip B. White and C. Ernest Olson. Honorary pall bearers were Howard M. Shattuck, Norman S. Lawson and John Shepperson.

WILLIAM KISTINGER

who has been named chairman of the Upland planning commission. Mr. Kistinger is a citrus grower, president of the Upland Exchange club and a former candidate for the Upland city council.

Kistinger Heads City Planners

William Kistinger is now the new chairman of the Upland planning commission, succeeding the veteran L. R. Bradley, who recently resigned.

He was chosen at the start of Thursday night's meeting on nomination by George Whitney. Later Mr. Whitney was named vice chairman.

The reorganization of the commission followed the appointment of Dan Maher.

Mr. Bradley and W. W. Mather recently retired as commission members. Each declined reappointment. One vacancy exists and this is to be filled by Mayor Eugene G. Nisbet.

Active in the community for many years, Mr. Bradley and Mr. Mather had given much time in helping the planned growth of the community.

Huge Airplane Will Be Moved Through Here By Truck

Early-rising residents along Arrow highway may be in for a surprise tomorrow morning. Along about 5 a.m., an airplane will roll quietly through the street headed east.

The plane will be the first to be moved through the city by the Lyon Van and Storage Co. of Burbank. The company has been issued a permit to move one plane a week through this area.

Where the planes come from, or where they are going, police did not say. At any rate, tomorrow's will leave Burbank at 1 a.m. and is expected to reach the west city limits at about 5 a.m. Police will be on hand to assist in moving it through the city.

Hearings On Budgets Set

Public hearings on the budgets for the coming year at Upland Elementary school district and the Chaffey school district are scheduled next week.

The hearing on the budget for the Upland district will be held August 7 in Superintendent Harold Cook's office at Upland Junior high school. The budget has been set by the board at $367,634, a 20 per cent increase over the $306,181 budget for the 1951-52 school year.

Preliminary figure set by the board for Chaffey schools during 1952-53 is $1,848,776, an increase of $339,000 over last year's budget. Tentative figure set for maintenance of the ninth grade at Upland Junior high school is $27,607.

Pasadena Man Buys Two Citrus Groves

Sale of two adjoining six-acre citrus groves on North Amethyst avenue in Alta Loma has been announced.

Walter H. Brandenburg of Pasadena has purchased the groves from J. G. Ridland and Dr. Harry W. Vance. Mr. Ridland, now living in Spokane, Wash., where he is connected with the British consulate, is a former resident of the area. Dr. Vance is a retired physician in Pasadena.

The two men have owned the groves since 1937 and have been members of the Liberty Groves corporation during that time.

More Than 850 Every Day

Chaffey Plunge Proving Good Spot To Cool Off; Attendance Increases

One of the favorite spots for local people trying to "beat the heat" is the Chaffey plunge, according to manager Bob Erickson, who reports that weekly attendance has increased almost 500 people a week over last year's record.

Crowds of more than 850 people are filling the pool every day except Sunday for swimming instruction in the morning and the public swimming sessions in the afternoons and evenings.

Average attendance for the Red Cross swimming instruction program and the private instructions in the mornings is about 300, says Mr. Erickson, with about 400 people in attendance at the afternoon sessions. Average attendance for the evenings is about 150.

"The tremendous increase in population during the last year is largely responsible for the growing atendance," Mr. Erickson observed.

In addition to Mr. Erickson, four adult instructors from the school physical education department work at the plunge. Vance Miller and Tad Yamaguchi are the pool life guards. Also on deck in the afternoons are Fred Clapp and Mary Ellen Crumley. Kay Grimmesey is in charge of the check stand.

The pool is open for swimming instruction in the Red Cross program Monday through Friday from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 11 to 12 a. m. for private instructions. The private instructions cost $1 a lesson or 6 lessons for $5.

The pool is open to the public Monday through Friday from 1 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. and on Saturday from 1 to 4 p. m. Admission is 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Private groups may rent the pool during hours when it is closed. The Northrup Aircraft company is now using the pool from 4 to 6:30 p. m. Mondays and Thursdays as part of its recreation program. A guarantee of $15 is charged private groups who use the pool.

"The biggest day this year was the opening day," Mr. Erickson reported. "We had 750 in attendance just during the afternoon and evening."

New M.E. Minister

Dr. Lee To Greet Congregations

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Lee have returned to Upland after a July vacation and on Sunday morning he will appear for the first time in the pulpit of the Upland Methodist church.

He succeeds Rev. Robert Price as Upland minister, being assigned to this church in the recent Methodist conference. He came here from the Inglewood Methodist church.

"Faith By Which We Live," is his sermon topic for Sunday morning. Congregations of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches will be united during August and Dr. Lee will not only be greeting members of his own church but also the Presbyterians. The morning service starts at 11 a.m.

An evening service will be in the church and Dr. Lee will have as his subject, "An Evening Meditation.'

Dr. and Mrs. Lee are occupying the church parsonage at 693 North Euclid avenue. They returned the first of the week from Santa Barbara and other points where they had been vacationing.

Photography Group Will Show Slides

Colored slides taken by members will provide entertainment at tomorrow night's meeting of the Euclid Avenue Camera club to be held in the Chaffey art building.

Walter Hunsaker, a teacher of photography in Long Beach, will judge the slides, with members asked to show pictures fitting the "girls" theme of the evening.

Zoning Proposal

Half Acre Home Sites Only In Citrus Area

If the city council adopts the suggestion of the city planning commission these temporary limitations will be placed on development in the agricultural zone:

Building lots must contain at least 22,500 square feet (½ of an acre) with a 75-foot deep front yard.

Poultry flocks must be limited to 12 hens and commercial poultry flocks will be prohibited.

That no building will be permitted in this zone as of now, pending final adoption of an amendment to the zoning ordinance.

Upland planning commission members Thursday night adopted a resolution asking the council to introduce an emergency amendment to the zoning ordinance and "to instruct its officials to conform with these requirements pending formal adoption of the proposed zoning amendments."

Land Use Study

Charles Eliot, planning consultant, is starting a land use survey prior to making suggested changes in the zoning ordinance. The interim amendment is sought to keep the local development in the agricultural zone in a "status quo" basis.

Legion Begins Member Drive

Emil McGannon outlined his plans for the year's membership campaign at a meeting of Upland American Legion officers last night. The campaign will be the first project of the group under the new slate of officers headed by Commander Ray Davis.

Quota for the Upland post will be set at the department convention in Fresno this weekend. This year the quota was 200, but the post exceeded it with 246 active members.

Mr. Davis also named other committee chairmen at last night's meeting. Taz Cochrum is arranging the program for the regular meeting Wednesday night.

Open Pipe Enticing

Three Youngsters Climb Into Reservoir; Held As Prisoners

Getting out of a pipe is not always as easy as getting in, three young Upland brothers learned this week.

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Cyphers, 576 Olive street, were on their way to a craft class at Central school in Ontario last Friday when they noticed a newly-constructed municipal water system reservoir on Campus avenue near Seventh street.

Michael, 9; James, 8 and Ray, 6, yielded to temptation and crawled into the tank through a large pipe which they reached with the aid of a ladder. After they had inspected the place thoroughly they were ready to leave.

But while they were inside the tank some older boys had blocked their exit by placing some large rocks on the mouth of the pipe. They were standing guard over the exit.

After some effort, two of the frightened young prisoners managed to climb up the inner wall of the tank to a small opening just under the roof. There they shouted at passing motorists, but to no avail. The passersby could not figure out where the noise was coming from.

When the older boys finally left their post, young Ray was able to crawl through the small opening and remove the rocks to free his brothers.

Mrs. Cyphers greeted three mussed-up youngsters in the late afternoon, and as soon as she had heard their story, notified police officers.

The police ordered W. R. Hays, construction foreman, to close the pipe entrance to the tank and remove all ladders to prevent possible tragedy to other children.

Plans to Remove Parkside Get Sudden Change

Parkside is doomed!!

That was the big story The Upland News was ready to spread across the front page of today's issue. The story was written, the headline was set. But then came a phone call.

A letter from the federal housing administration Wednesday morning had informed the Upland Housing authority that 110 of the vacant Parkside houses were slated for removal to a critical housing area. The phone call from San Francisco late yesterday afternoon said that plans were changed.

The federal agency has decided to move another group of houses into the critical area and leave Parkside houses where they are, federal officials told Otto Roen, executive secretary of the Upland Housing authority.

Removal of Parkside will not come until at least the first of January unless another critical area develops, federal officials said. Meanwhile, no more tenants will be admitted to the presently unoccupied dwellings.

Previously, Mr. Roen had been told that removal of 110 of the temporary dwellings would begin about the end of September. He was also requested to ask tenants to look for other housing as soon as possible.

Although no new tenants will be admitted, those presently occupying the dwellings will be able to go on living there.

Residents adjacent to Parkside are continuing their complaints about the unsightliness of the dwellings. The local authority was refused money for painting the structures and leaders have expressed a desire to have them removed as soon as possible.

Parkside was built during the war to relieve the critical housing shortage that existed here then. It is located east of Campus avenue between Eleventh street and Foothill boulevard.

Building Total Near $2 Million In Seven Months

New construction in Upland during the seven months of 1952 approached the two million dollar mark yesterday.

Building permits up until yesterday afternoon for July totaled $76,077 and this makes an unofficial total for 1952 of $1,925,526, according to figures in the office of Building Inspector Richard Derby.

At this time a year ago the building total for 1951 was $2,661,361 and the seven-month period in 1950 was $1,192,558.

Committee Chairmen Report to Rotarians

The greater part of the weekly luncheon meeting of the Upland Rotary club Wednesday in the Upland Woman's club house was devoted to reports and discussion of activities by the chairmen of the various committees. President Jarvis J. Leman presided.

In eulogy, P. H. McQuillen paid tribute to the memory of Edward E. Gray, veteran attorney and member of the club, who died last Friday.

Workmen Fell 8 Pepper Trees

Beauty gave way to progress yesterday as workmen felled eight of the famed pepper trees on Euclid avenue to clear the path of the new Ramona freeway.

Huge bulldozers pushed at the stately trees while a network of ropes prevented them from falling into the roadway. Many motorists parked their cars to watch operations. This morning workers began to cut the trees into small logs for removal.

The trees were felled into the center section of Euclid avenue just inside the south city limits. Eight more trees will be removed in the near future so that work can begin on the structures that will take the freeway under Euclid avenue.

Mrs. W. K. Vernon, Mt. Baldy lodge, Mt. Baldy, was admitted to to San Antonio hospital for major surgery.

Lloyd Owenby, 208 South Campus avenue, has been dismissed from San Antonio hospital after receiving medical care.

Subdivision Fate Decided Tonight

City Attorney Cites Strong Legal Case If Council Wants To Deny Application

Upland city has a strong legal case if the city council supports the planning commission in denying a subdivision on Hubert Manker's West Thirteenth street property, City Attorney Henry M. Busch said yesterday. A meeting of the council tonight will decide the fate of the application.

Representatives of L. L. Hammersley, subdivider, have indicated legal action if the council acts adversely at the hearing in the city hall. Mr. Busch referred to a resolution adopted by the planning commission last Thursday night in which "good and sufficient reasons" were cited for refusing the subdivision application.

The applicants have appealed from that decision.

Mr. Busch said a proposed land use survey had been suggested prior to the filing of the subdivision application and this fact is of legal importance. He also referred to this point in the planning commission resolution; "That it was never the intention of the planning commission to permit the density of population provided by the subdivision to be located in an agricultural area and that provisions in the zoning ordinance as to lot size were intended only to pertain to isolated instances."

Mr. Busch also emphasized that "no court is going to substitute its own opinion for that of the planning commission and city council."

When the planning commission on June 26 denied the application reasons for its action were not listed in the minutes. The resolution passed last week amends the June 26 minutes to include the reasons.

Among reasons other than those emphasized above, the following were listed:

"Would impede cultural practice pursued in the citrus industry."

"Inadequate school facilities either for the present or the future.

"Problems of taxation as compared with services to be rendered.

"Increased cost of fire and police protection.

"Value of surrounding property would be detrimentally affected."

Wide interest has been shown in the Manker subdivision and a large attendance of property owners is expected.

Some of the commission members have also indicated their intention to attend.

Removal of P.E. Tracks Await Contract Signing

Removal of the Pacific Electric railway tracks from Euclid avenue parkway is still something for the future, according to latest reports from railway officials.

H. B. Atwood of the Pacific Electric's public relations office in Los Angeles this week told The Upland News that negotiations are still being worked out to change the route of freight cars from the Euclid avenue tracks to the Fifth evenue spur tracks.

The change will mean that Santa Fe employees will handle the cars where the Pacific Electric spur tracks on Fifth avenue cross the Santa Fe line in transporting freight to business houses south of the Santa Fe tracks.

Negotiations to effect the change are now being worked out between the two companies and labor unions. An agreement authorizing the change must be reached before Pacific Electric can switch the route of their cars to the Fifth avenue spur tracks and eliminate the need for the Euclid avenue tracks.

Resignation Is Filed By Fuller

Responsibility for Upland's summer recreation program is now divided between three people following the official resignation of Lewis R. Fuller as recreation director Saturday.

Appointed by Mr. Fuller before he left on his three-week vacation July 14, Lester Nagler will continue to have charge of activities at the Upland Junior high school playground, and students Joe Agapay and Stanley Evers will handle other phases of the program.

Mr. Fuller filed his written resignation to City Manager Richard G. Manley Saturday. His standing had been in doubt since he announced on July 9 that he did not plan to continue in the position when he returned from his vacation.

The Fuller family moved this week to Bellflower where Mr. Fuller has accepted employment in the construction business.

In the 1952-53 budget, the city had granted Mr. Fuller a $33 per month raise. He had previously asked city officials for a larger increase in salary.

Mr. Fuller, who was appointed city recreation director in 1947, was responsible for building the program into the largest in city history. He also was a leader in the development of the city park.

In his letter of resignation, he urged the city to fill the vacancy as soon as possible for the sake of those interested in the program.

Sen. Nixon Asked To Young GOP Dance August 25

Senator Richard Nixon, Republican presidential nominee, has been invited to appear as guest of honor at a dance which Chaffey District Young Republicans will sponsor at Red Hill Country club August 25.

The senator will be vacationing at his home in Whittier at the time of the dance, and the local group has strong hopes of having him attend.

Mrs. Dorothy Summerhays, chairman of the event, announced that arrangements for a band and other entertainment are nearing completion.

Sees Quake Area

Fire Chief In CD Position

Fire Chief Howard C. Paulin is now outlining civil defense plans for the coming year following his appointment as assistant director of civil defense by the city council last week.

Chief Paulin gained valuable experience for his new position in a tour of the Tehachapi area which he made last week accompanied by city officials from Ontario.

Pointing out that although some people failed to recognize the need for active civil defense in small cities, the chief said the quake showed the vital necessity for preparedness in every area.

"As I looked at the wreckage in Tehachapi, I could almost see the streets of Upland, with the Odd Fellows hall and the Masonic lodge lying rubble in the streets."

Chief Paulin conferred with the mayor, police and fire chiefs and civil defense director in the disaster city and obtained several pointers on emergency work in case of such an event here.

"I felt that the tour of the area was especially valuable," the Chief said, "because the damage caused by a severe earthquake is very similar to that caused by an atomic bomb, with the exception of the radiation a bomb produces."

Ontario city officials accompanying the chief on the tour of Tehachapi were Edd T. Hitt, executive assistant of civil defense, Fire Chief Lloyd H. Hopkins and M. G. Riddle, city building inspector.

Slim trim classes being held at the Upland Junior High school gymnasium each Monday and Thursday from 8 to 9:30 p.m. are proving one of the most popular women's classes in the summer recreation program.

A Few Years Ago

A few years ago you did not believe in the X-ray. If anyone had suggested that there was a light that would make the body transparent so that you could see bones in your hand, and a needle broken off in your flesh, you would have laughed.

A few years ago you did not believe in radium; could not conceive of a flame that would not consume, a substance that would not burn itself up by its own shining.

A few years ago you did not believe that a man's voice could be carried through the ether and around the world.

A few years ago you did not believe that immense passenger planes could fly over sea and land from continent to continent.

A few years ago you did not believe that you could recline in an easy chair in your own home and watch move by move and hear word by word the Republican and Democratic conventions.

Street Extension Being Delayed

Engineering plans for the extension of C and D streets are being delayed pending approval of a request for $3,000 from the federal redevelopment agency, Otto S. Roen reported yesterday.

Mr. Roen, director of the Upland Redevelopment agency, explained that the grant of money is necessary before the extensive paper work on the project can begin.

Although Mr. Roen says he is expecting to hear from the federal agency in the near future, the schedule called for approval of the grant last month.

The long-contemplated project would extend the two streets from Third avenue to Campus avenue and provide additional business and home sites for the city. It is the practice of the federal agency to provide a working fund for such developments. The city would repay the agency after the completion of the project.

New Law To Give Higher Social Security Payments

About 20,000 pople in the San Bernardino area will receive higher social security payments as a result of the amendments which the President signed into law July 18. The first increase check will be for the month of September.

"The Social Security administration is already changing the amounts." he pointed out. "We expect to get them changed in time to have them in the mail October 3, the regular delivery date.

Beginning September 1, the new law increased to $75 a month instead of $50 the amount a benificiary under age 75 may earn and still receive the monthly benefits. For the self-employed people it will be $900 net earnings per year instead of $600. If over age 75 the beneficiary may earn any amount.

Connie Matranga Becomes Bride Of Angelo Polizzi in Church Rites

San Secondo D'Asti Catholic church in Guasti was the setting for a beautiful wedding Sunday afternoon when Miss Connie Marie Matranga, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper J. Matranga, 506 North Laurel avenue, exchanged vows with Angelo Charles Polizzi of Glendale.

The Rev. Fr. Louis Conti performed the single-ring service at 3:30 o'clock in the presence of 250 relatives and friends. At either side of the altar were candelabra and arrangements of white gladioli and white carnations, and on the altar was a bouquet of white gladioli.

The church organist accompanied the vocalist who sang "Ave Maria" and also played the traditional wedding marches for the entrance of the wedding party and the recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown fashioned with a pearl-embroidered Swiss lace bodice and a full skirt of candlelight satin which swept into a train. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a lace cap studded with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis with white satin streamers.

Miss Vicki Matranga attended her sister as maid of honor, and Miss Sally Polizzi of Glendale, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of nylon net in two shades of light green, styled with strapless bodices and full skirts and short bolero jackets. Each carried a single white orchid.

Charles Bates of Los Angeles served the bridegroom as best man, and Joe Pilato of Glendale, nephew of the bridegroom, ushered the guests.

The 250 guests were entertained at a 6 o'clock wedding dinner at the Pomona Golf and Country club.

When the newlyweds left for a two weeks' motor trip up the coast to San Francisco, the bride had changed to a summer gray wool suit with small matching hat, and gray alligator shoes and purse. When they return they will establish their home in Glendale.

The new Mrs. Polizzi received her education in private schools in Chicago, and has lived in Upland about seven years. She was employed for three years as a bookkeeper at Newton's in Ontario.

Mr. Polizzi was educated in Buffalo, New York, his former home, and is a veteran of World War II. He is employed as a salesman.

Tom-Son's Forfeit Game To Methodists

The Methodist softball nine turned out full force Monday night ready for a tilt with Tom-Son's, but they went home early with a 7-0 win chalked up.

Ray Vasquez, Tom-Son's manager, could find only six players. The rules call for at least eight, so Tom-Son's forfeited.

A pound of sulphate of ammonia scattered over 500 square feet of lawn and watered in should help "green up" the summer lawn. Most all plants will respond to this nitrogen fertilizer at this time of the year.

With two out and Davis on second Larry Beck rapped out a long fly to score Davis. Ruben Luna then doubled to score Beck and put the winning run on second. Carl Skvarna, who had already scored one homer, tapped a single to score Luna.

Chaffey Adopts P. E. Program

A new physical education program at Chaffey is to provide instruction and training in vigorous muscular activities, development of more interscholastic activity and to contribute to the individuals health knowledge.

Allan G. Smith is the new head of the physical education department and an outlined program has been approved by the Chaffey board of education. A comprehensive plan has been outlined to develop greater interest in right health habits and attitudes, to provide maximum efforts toward correction of physical deficiences to provide a medium in which all students may experience the value of team work, the thrill of competition and the satisfaction of belonging to a team.

A long range program of tests for skill in muscular activities is planned and provision for the development of an enlarged intramural sports program. Stress will be placed on knowing how to swim and to administer first aid.

New Court Here Jan. 1 Seen As Big Step Forward in Procedures

When Judge F. H. Jacobs assumes his post as judge of the newly-created justice court in January, he will be heading a "more uniform and workable court system than we have had before," he said this week.

Judge Jacobs explained that the recent court reform law which combines the city court and the old justice of the peace system into one justice court will provide for more effective administration.

Under the new system the judge will have jurisdiction over both city and township cases. At present, Judge Mildred Puckett of the city court handles city cases. Judge Jacobs, as justice of the peace here for 17½ years, has charge of township cases.

In his new position, the judge will be assisted by a full-time clerk and quarters will be provided for him by the county. While it is assumed that quarters near police headquarters will be provided, the county has made no announcement of its arrangements.

Judge Jacobs calls the new law a "forward step in court reform." The law does away with the seven types of lower courts which formerly existed, leaving only two courts inferior to the superior court, the municipal court and the justice court.

Municipal courts are for judicial areas with populations of more than 40,000, the judge pointed out. The population of the local area is between 12,000 and 13,000.

Chief advantages of the new system, explains Judge Jacobs, are that all court positions will be subject to the will of the electorate and that the confusion as to procedure and jurisdicion, now prevalent because of the variety of courts, will be eliminated.

Rules for the new court system provide the judge of the justice court with jurisdiction over both civil and criminal cases. The maximum amount of money in civil cases handled by the judge will be raised from $300 to $500.

Grape Committee To Meet With Growers

Local members of a state committe of grape growers and wine producers are arranging meetings with San Bernardino county growers to consider a program to rejuvenate the wine grape industry.

M. A. Van Fleet, of Upland, Henry L. Lucas of Cucamonga and John B. Ellena of Etiwanda are members of the committee which has proposed a program designed to increase returns by seeing that all grapes delivered to wineries will be of a standard quality.

Veterans Eligible For Flight Training

Details are available at the airport at Thirteentn street and Benson avenue or by calling 311-46.

Registration For Summer Session At Claremont Set

The six-week semester, from August 4 to September 6, will include a full program in professional education. A number of seminars will be held in counseling and guidance, secondary and elementary education, and measurement and evaluation.

There will also be classes in art education, curriculum and instruction in the social studies, all phases of school administration, both graduate and undergraduate courses in design and ceramics, economics, American literature, history, mathematics, psychology, and sociology.

Half Acre Home Sites Only In Citrus Area

Commissioners, however, expressed the belief the proposed emergency measure was too late to have any bearing on the proposed Manker subdivision development on West Thirteenth street.

First report on the land use survey is scheduled in October and his final report on, proposed changes in the master zoning plan is due early in 1953. The emergency proposal, if adopted by the council next month, is scheduled to express the city's policy until that time.

Church Variance

In other actions the commission granted the First Baptist church a variance to extend the church 20 feet forward to within five feet of the property line. Mrs. Jessie McKinney was granted permission to split a 90-foot lot on East Ninth street near Walker's market into two 45-foot lots.

The commission also required that Guy H. McClure place an alley in the center of an 11-acre tract he plans to subdivide at the southeast corner of Benson avenue and Ninth street.

Sign Permitted

Robert Allen was granted a variance to erect a sign set back eight feet from the sidewalk at the Hargrave and Allen service station at First avenue and Arrow highway.

The city of Chino was granted approval of a directional sign at the corner of Central avenue and Foothill boulevard, provided no red or green neon tubes were used.

Mrs. J. M. Bozzone was granted aproval to make dress alterations at 250 North Campus avenue provided she did not display a sign larger than two feet square.

The commission also passed a resolution listing the reasons the group had denied subdividers approval on the Manker subdivision.

Members of the commission in attendance were Wm. A. Kistinger, George Whitney, Jack Clark, Dr. Henry G. Brubaker, and Don Maher. City Manager Richard G. Manley, City Attorney Henry M. Busch and Mr. Eliot were also in attendance.

Local Woman's Sister Believed Drowned In Fishing Accident

Rescue workers began their third day of searching for the bodies of an Upland woman's sister and her husband in an Oregon lake yesterday.

Mrs. Floyd Keith, 827 East Seventh street, received word of the tragedy Sunday. Believed drowned were her sister, Mrs. John Harbison and her husband of Roseburg, Ore.

The Harbisons were fishing for catfish with another couple on Ten-mile lake Saturday night when their boat overturned. The rescued couple said they heard no sound when the Harbisons disappeared. The Harbisons were believed to be poor swimmers, they said, but they were reportedly wearing life jackets.

Members of the family from Southern California left for Oregon as soon as they received word. Mrs. Keith, who had just returned from a two-week vacation trip there, said that a phone call from a sister-in-law early Wednesday morning informed her that the bodies had not been found.

Nixon Praises Local GOP

Their political organization of this area won Chaffey District Young Republicans compliments from Senator Richard Nixon, GOP vice presidential nominee, at welcome home festivities for the senator in Whittier Monday.

He is very pleased with the work the group has done in organizing the voters of this district, Sen. Nixon told Young GOP members. A delegation of about 20 members took part in the cross-town parade which highlighted welcoming ceremonies.

More than a score of Uplanders were on hand to witness the celebrating. Bernard Naftel, West Twenty-third street, and Gerry P. Westphal, 410 West Nineteenth street, added a comic touch to the parade.

They donned elephants' heads which they wore in the All-States picnic recently and as 'GOP boxers" gave lively boxing matches. Delegates from the local organization rode in four convertibles in the parade and later many had an opportunity to meet the senator personally.

Police Answer Many Inquiries. Aid Residents on Various Problems

Upland police agreed Monday morning that it had been (A) a hot weekend, and (B) a busy one.

While residents sat in shady yards and patios and relaxed in air-conditioned houses complaining of the sticky heat, desk sergeants and patrolmen were listening to and answering a flood of minor complaints.

Early Sunday morning a Parkside resident informed officers that he had a lost child at his home. Officers investigated. They found that the child was not only lost, she had the mumps as well. The little girl's parents were located and a doctor called.

An irritated homeowner added hers to the list of troubles, Mrs. J. W. Conner, 578 West Ninth street, notified the desk sergeant that for several mornings each week she had found broken beer bottles in her mailbox and she was tired of cleaning up the mess. Officers promised assistance.

Between calls patrolmen were checking houses of people on vacation to be sure no burglars were about. People called to tell police they were leaving for vacations and would appreciate checks on the premises; others who had just returned from their outings called to thank the department for keeping an eye on things while they were away.

Several people eased their worries and pocketbooks by paying traffic fines. From 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday the desk sergeant wrote out four receipts.

There were a few drunks. Six Mexicans were arrested and charged with several violations.

Early Monday morning Mrs. Arthur A. Asper, 395 South Euclid avenue, called to say there was a man sitting in a car across the street from her house. He had been there for some time.

The patrol car cruised by and stopped. The man was an out-of-stater who had stopped for a nap.

Officers learned that several cars would be parked out for one night or several. They checked on a call from a woman who said there was a loud party in progress next door. They checked cars which had been issued mechanical citations.

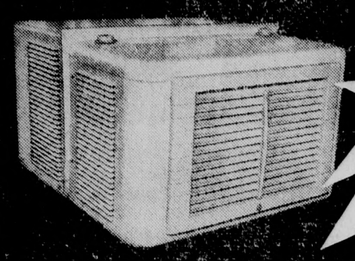

A woman phoned in that she had heard a prowler. Officers rushed to the address and learned that the woman had heard a noise in the swimming pool. Since the pool was surrounded by a high wall and the gate was locked, they explained to her that it was unlikely there was a prowler, but assured her that she had done the right thing in calling them to investigate.

Then, coming like an encouraging pat on the back, officers received a letter from Chester Lemke of Yucca Valley.

"Thanks for the courtesy shown me, especially the arresting officer," the letter read. "We need more men like this."

Fire Surrounds Fireman; Flames Endanger Area

William Duncan, state forestry fireman, was almost enveloped in flames while fighting a 10-acre brush fire near the San Antonio park Saturday, according to eye witnesses.

He had gone into the area to extinguish the flames and about the time he ran out of water, the wind changed to fan the fire from a different direction. To the north of him was a high rock wall and fire on the other sides of him. He chose to escape by driving the fire truck over the rock wall.

Ross Caldwell, poultryman at 2502 Electric avenue, saw the fire creep within a few feet of his chicken pens and half a dozen other buildings were threatened. Cause of the fire is unknown. It burned over the area north of San Antonio park and a point east of Electric avenue. A few citrus trees were seared.

Half a dozen fire departments were represented in the battle to prevent building loss and to confine the flames to the weeded area.

Cucamonga School Will Buy New Bus

Increased enrollment at Central school in Cucamonga has prompted the board of trustees to call for bids for a new school bus with a capacity of 71 elementary pupils.

Robert F. Ford, clerk of the board, announced that the bus was being purchased not only to meet present needs but in anticipation of a future increase in enrollment as well.

The present bus, purchased three years ago, is now being loaded to capacity, according to Mr. Ford.

Civilian construction activity in California during the first half of 1952 fell 11.6 per cent behind volume for the comparable period last year, the Daily Pacific Builder reported recently.

City Budget Analysis

Law Enforcement in City Will Cost $81,859; New Man Added

The city of Upland will spend $81,859 on police protection from July 1, 1952 to June 30, 1953. That is the figure which has been set in the budget approved by the city council.

The total figure represents an increase of $9,331 over last year's budget of $72,528. During the 1950-51 period, the budget for the department was $66,548.

Chief expenditure in the department is the salaries of the officers. Upland has a chief of police, a captain, four sergeants and six patrolmen. Total cost for this year's salaries, including the recent five per cent pay hike, will be $70,853, compared with $59,137 last year.

Supplies and expenses will cost $2,473, slightly less than the $2,675 which was allotted last year. Automobile maintenance is set at $5,500, also a drop over last year's allotment of $6,493. The fund for new cars will be $2,400, less than last year's $4,011.

Cost of maintaining the jail for the prisoners, including their food, will be $350, an increase over last year's figure of $212.

New radio equipment, including a walkie-talkie, will cost the department $283. Last year no money was spent on equipment, but in 1950-51 the department spent $2,490 on radio facilities.

Lemon. Orange Sales Increase

Under active demand, sales of both California valencia oranges and lemons showed an increase of better than 50 cars each during the week ending July 26. Prices on both citrus varieties were steady at the levels which prevailed last week; valencias averaging $3.60 per box and lemons $7.25 per box f. o. b.

Warm weather over most of the country continued to hold lemon demand at a high level. The original prorate of 600 cars of lemons for the current week was increased to 700 cars by the Lemon Administrative committee to handle trade and consumer demand more adequately.

Minister Says:

Ideal Great Aid In Marriage

The importance of Christian ideals in marriage were stressed for the congregation of the Upland Church of Christ by Glen W. Lundy, minister of the church.

Emphasizing the importance of the home in human society, Mr. Lundy pointed out that "we cannot expect this greatest of all human institutions to stand the onslaught of human weakness unless we look to its foundation and are willing to urge and require that all give heed to the principles which Almighty God laid down concerning marriage, the beginning of the home.

"That marriage is ordained of God, can not be doubted, for in the very dawn of creation it is recorded that God saw it was not good for man to be alone, hence made for him an helpmeet. That this union is the beginning of a new unit in society, is further indicated when God declares that man should leave father and mother and cleave to his wife and the two would become one flesh."

According to Mr. Lundy, many abuses have arisen through the years concerning marriage, and man has drifted further away from God's principles and has become hopelessly confused. Not only did God direct man to form the home, but also set forth the manner in which it was to be governed as indicated in Genesis 3:16. 'The desire of the wife shall be to her husband and he shall rule over her.' Through the generations this directive has been abused; but it is no less the command of God.

"Man and woman attracted to each other by pure and honest motives, that they should love each other and contribute to the comfort and needs of each, and bring up children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, is certainly God's plan. When this plan is adhered to, our homes shall become strong and our nation honorable."

In disclosing the results of its monthly building permit survey, the construction newspaper reported a volume of $631.00 million for the first six months of 1952, compared with $713.7 million for the same period in 1951.

The two club leaders also attended the fifth area convention in Vista last weekend, where Howard Purcell of Big Bear was endorsed by the area for the office of state commander.

Reports during the business session showed the Upland post leading all others in the area in membership quota. The local post had 106 per cent membership.

Issue Is "Do We Want Change" As Political Race At Even Start

Many observers look upon the 1952 political battle as an "even" race, now that the Democrats have picked Adlai Stevenson as head of the ticket.

While the Republican standard bearers of Eisenhower and Nixon are regarded as more outstanding in many respects, Stevenson has the big political advantage of being one of the party in power. While Stevenson as the governor of Illinois was just another governor, his favorable showing at the Chicago convention has raised his standing considerably.

The general conclusion now is: "Whomever is elected, there will be a change for the better."

After millions of words have been spoken and written and November comes, the final question will be: "Do We Want a Real Change in Washington?" Governor Stevenson would, to a measure, give the nation some change. He would still have the Democratic party structure and the big and little wheels; his course would be not far from the Democratic path.

A complete change would give the nation new leadership and a new approach to the internal situation.

Some of what we hear about the Democratic wastefulness and graft is doubtless very true. There is some merit to the argument about a party being in power too long. Many other good reasons can be cited for favoring a real change in Washington.

In any event, both parties have fairly strong leaders and the battle at this point is fairly even. What is said and how it is said by the Republican challengers will be more important than what Stevenson says or does not say.

School Budget Hearings Provide Opportunity Asking Questions

A careful study of the proposed budget for the Upland school district is suggested and for a detailed examination turn to page five of today's Upland News, where the budget is printed as a legal advertisement.

It is interesting to note that an increasing percentage of financial support is coming from funds collected by the state. For example in the 1951-52 budget funds from the state totaled $159,452, and the income from property taxes and other local sources was $117,161.

For the current year, ending next June 30, income from the state for support of the local school district will be $191,071 and income on the local level will be $117,881.

Based on the "average daily attendance," state funds are alloted local districts. The formula used in apportioning the state money has been changed to benefit some districts and that is one of the main reasons for the boost in the state-level income here.

Taxpayers pay the bill but it is comforting to note that local property is carrying less and less of the obligation. The sales tax is one of the principle sources of funds for state-allocated money.

Interested persons will note the 20 per cent increase in proposed expenditures over the 1951-52 budget. In almost every classification, expenses are higher. And that is no surprise in the light of increased enrollment and higher costs.

A mere reading of the budget, however, leaves many questions unanswered. A public hearing is for the purpose of giving taxpayers an opportunity to get better informed of where and why the money is being spent.

And so the August 7 meeting of the Upland board of education is your opportunity to ask for explanation of budget items.

A Friendly Community? Upland Can Be Oustanding As A "Hello" Town

In many respects all communities are alike.

Upland can be different from most places if its people really want to make it so.

A friendly spirit means so much to so many people. In the realm of personal attitude toward fellow citizens residents here can make Upland outstanding.

It was P. H. McQuillen who through his years of active business leadership stressed the theme of a "Friendly Community."

In many respects Upland retains the earmarks of a small, country community. That may be good or bad depending on what you like. Whether Upland is large or small, however, the spirit of friendliness should prevail.

People naturally yearn for a happy nod and a greeting from their fellow citizens. On the sidewalk, across the backyard fence, at a gasoline service station, in a store or any place, friendliness is welcomed.

In other words, a friendly spirit will make the difference between Upland and the many scores of other southland communities. We may not be able to offer an outstanding commercial appeal, but that is only superficial.

What really counts is a friendly spirit, a wholesome feeling toward each other and an ever-present interest in others.

Already, Upland is known as a community of friendly people.

In all our contacts every day with every person, a spirit of friendliness can prevail. Then it will truly be a really friendly community.

Every person you meet in Upland can be your friend. Greet him with a warm "hello."

Cousin Loots House While Couple Is Away on Vacation

Relatives can be expensive people to have as guests, an Upland couple reported to police this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jennison, 1008 East Ninth street, returned Friday from a three-week vacation trip to Missouri. While they were away, a distant cousin entered their house and made himself at home, also making off with $12 in cash, a wrist watch and a suede jacket.

The Jennisons left Mrs. Lupe Mendoza, a neighbor, in charge of their house while they were away. Upland police got a phone call from Mrs. Mendoza on July 20 saying that a man was occupying the Jennison house.

When police questioned him, the man identified himself as Buddy Jennison of California, Missouri. Officers then called Mrs. Jenison in Missouri and she told them to evict the guest. The cousin was gone when police went back to the house.

Mrs. Jennison reported the theft of the articles to police Friday morning, but declined to press charges.

Lions Told of "New" Germany

A former head of the Chaffey adult education department, Dr. Berry served in the adult education program as part of the post-war program in rebuilding Germany. Great progress, he said has been made in making the Germans democratic and in rebuilding their economic system. A new national spirit is also being developed and Germans are quickly assuming the responsibilities of a self-governing nation, Dr. Berry said.

James Davidson was program chairman with Judge Fred H. Jacobs in charge. A guest at the meeting was Ralph Bentley, manager of the Garrett Construction Co. The meeting was held in the Upland Woman's clubhouse.
